No. 260 No. 261

255. UNUSUAL EUROPEAN POWDER HORN.
Appears to be made of paper mache, in the form of a crude bird's head. Length, 8½ in. Painted and varnished in various designs. Curious piece.

256. REVOLUTIONARY POWDER FLASK.
Circular, 4¼ in. in circumferance. Height, 12 in. Painted brown and marked "1776". The owner informed the cataloguer that this powder can was obtained from an old settler in Marlborough, N. H., who told him that it was used in a New England fort in the Revolutionary War.

257. RARE GERMAN POWDER FLASK.
Height, 4⅛ in. Width at bottom, 2⅛ in. Flat. Appears to be gold plated. On each side there is a figure of an armoured knight in relief, and on the bottom and edges there are raised foliated designs, and on the sides are eyelets for carrying. Very rare 17th Century piece, in fine condition.

258. FOUR HAND COLORED WATER COLOR PRINTS OF SOLDIERS.
Civil War period. 13¾ x 9¾ in. No. 1.—"55th Regiment, N. Y. St. Mil; Col. Le Gal." "Highland Guard, 79th Regt. L. Col. Elliott." "69th Regiment, N. Y. St. Mil: Col. Corcoran." No. 11—"United Turner Rifles, N. Y. St. Vol: Col. M. Weber." "Green Mountain Boys." No. 111—"Sergeant 4th Bat. Inf. M. V. M." No. IV—"Corporal 4th Bat. Rifles M. V. M."

259. ILLUSTRATED CATALOG OF THE UNITED STATES CARTRIDGE COMPANY'S FIREARMS COLLECTION.
Which is now in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. Fine, unused copy of this interesting catalog, published about twenty years ago.

260. AFRICAN ASSEGAI.
With small 8-in. spear head. (Illustrated.)

261. LONG JAPANESE BOW AND ARROWS.
The bow is 7 ft. long, and the quiver and and arrows (of which there are eleven) are 3 ft. long. Fine condition. (Illustrated.)

GUNS

RIFLES, CARBINES, MUSKETS (AMERICAN, EUROPEAN AND ORIENTAL) FLINTLOCK, MATCHLOCK, PERCUSSION, REVOLVING, ETC.

262 (top) 263 264

262. ORNATE MOROCCAN MIGUELET LOCK RIFLE.
Length, 40 inches. Octagon barrel inlaid at the breech with solid gold ornamentation. Slightly belled at the muzzle, and similarly ornamented there. The barrel is held to the stock by four engraved sleeves. The entire lock is covered with solid gold inlay, and is also ornamented with three carnelians, one being missing. The stock is of very beautiful mottled wood, and inlaid with numerous gold discs. The escutcheons and some of the ornaments are missing, but on the whole the rifle is in very good condition.
An unusually handsome piece (Illustrated)

263. POACHER'S UNDERHAMMER PERCUSSION CANE GUN.
The cane itself is 34 inches long and lacquered to represent wood, and about 20-bore, with detached shoulder stock. Very good condition.
(Illustrated)

264. UNUSUAL SEVEN-SHOT PERSCUSSION GOOSE GUN.
Length, 38 inches. The barrel is of one piece of metal, in which there are seven chambers, leather covered for 13 inches. The rest of the barrel has a brass sleeve. The breech block is removable for loading, and all seven shots are fired simultaneously. Engraved trigger guard and heel plate. Highly polished curly walnut stock, which has been split at the grip, but, if glued together, would hardly show. Exceedingly rare type of early American gun.
(Illustrated)

265. AUSTRIAN PERCUSSION PISTOL CARBINE.
Length, 29 inches. Brass mounted. Dated 1856. Very good condition.

266. AUSTRIAN PERCUSSION BLUNDERBUS.
17-inch barrel, with 1¾-inch bell muzzle. Sling swivels and nipple safety. Some inlay on the barrel, and two armourer's marks. The lock is marked "Crown" and "Cybara 1859". Slight crack on fore-end,—otherwise in good condition.

267. PERCUSSION SPORTING RIFLE.
28½-inch light octagon barrel, calibre .31, smooth bore. Half bird's eye maple stock, German silver mountings. Full pistol grip with German silver cap. Evidently a Pennsylvania made piece in good condition.

268. SUPERPOSED "MULE-EAR" PERCUSSION COMBINATION GUN.
31-inch round barrels,—the top one rifled, calibre .36,—the lower one 28-gauge, smooth bore. German silver mountings. Plain walnut stock. German silver spread-eagle on the raised cheek piece,—also a German silver deer. Unusual type of weapon, in fairly good condition.

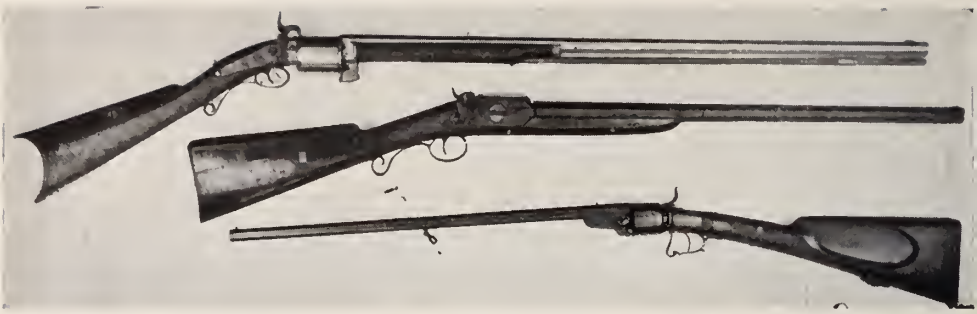
269. BELGIAN HEAVY PERCUSSION MATCH RIFLE.
Length, 51 inches. Heavy octagon barrel, calibre .44, heavily rifled. Brass mountings, double set triggers, three-finger spur trigger guard. Cross-checked grip, butternut stock. Slight chip off wood on right side of barrel,—otherwise in fine condition.

270. CONFEDERATE PERCUSSION MUSKET.
Marked "Richmond, Va. C. S. 1862". Iron mounted. Ramrod missing,—otherwise in good condition.

271. ENFIELD PERCUSSION MUSKET.
Calibre .577. Marked "Tower Crown 1862". Bayonet missing,—otherwise in fine condition.

272. FRENCH DOUBLE BARREL FLINT-LOCK FOWLING PIECE.
32-inch barrels, octagon for 12 inches at the breech. 20-gauge. The mountings are of iron, hand chiselled. Very fine locks, nicely engraved. Marked "Farnier". An exceptionally nice piece, in original condition. These double barrel flint-lock guns are rare, as most of them were converted to percussion.

273. GERMAN PERCUSSION MUSKET.
Calibre .75. Brass mounted. Marked "Suhl" and anchor. Also marked "City of Philadelphia. A. Wurfflein". These guns were used by the Home Guards of Philadelphia during the Civil War. Very scarce.



274 (top) 275 276

274. PILLOCK REVOLVING RIFLE.

6 shots, calibre .44. 32-inch barrel. Brass mounted. Very fine curly walnut stock. Made by E. S. Ormsby, who was at one time master workman in the employ of Colonel Colt. Revolving pillock rifles are very rare. Slight repairs to the woodwork at the breech,—otherwise in good condition.

(Illustrated)

275. RARE BREECH-LOADING PERCUSSION SPORTING RIFLE.

Marked "Hudson, N. Y." Half octagon barrel 25 inches long, about calibre .31. The breech is heavy and has a round removable breech block, which is held in place by a long spring on the right side. The breech block can be removed for loading. The mountings are of iron, nicely engraved, curly walnut stock, with iron patch-box, shotgun butt and raised cheek piece. A very unusual inventor's model, showing fine workmanship.

(Illustrated)

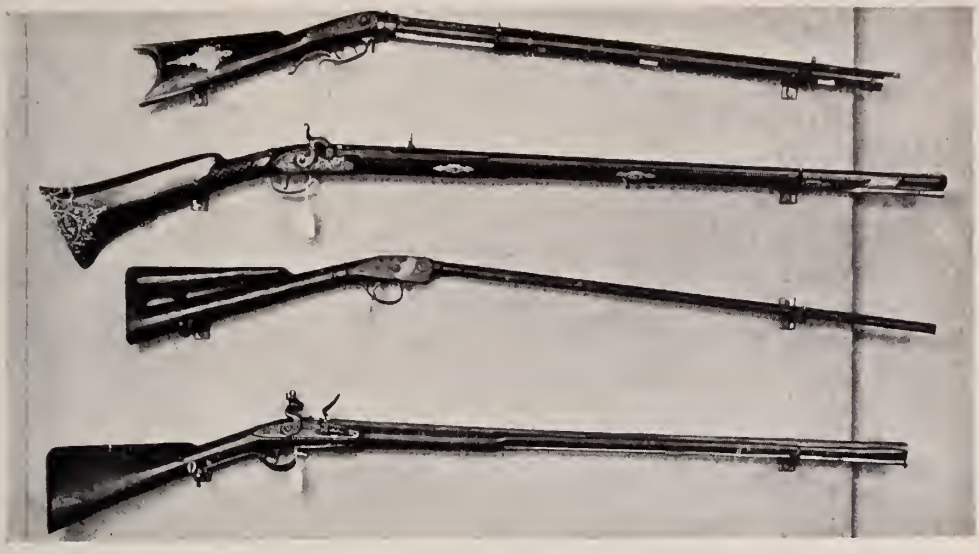
276. UNUSUAL PERCUSSION REVOLVING RIFLE.

22-inch octagon barrel, about calibre .44. Engraved frame, closely checked grip, with some foliated design ornamentation. Sling swivels and raised cheek piece. Engraved heel plate. German manufacture. Unusual piece, in very good condition.

(Illustrated)

277. GOULCHER SUPERPOSED PERCUSSION RIFLE.

Octagon barrels, 35 inches long,—one calibre .36, one calibre .40. Back action lock, marked "G. Goulcher". Curly maple stock, fancy pierced patch-box, raised cheek piece, with silver star. Interesting piece, in very good condition.



278 (top) 279 280 281

278. GOLCHER FOUR-BARREL PERCUSSION REVOLVING RIFLE.

29½-inch barrels, rifled, calibre .31. Double set triggers, German silver mountings. Engraved back action lock, marked "Joseph Golcher". These multi-shot rifles are exceedingly rare. Fairly good condition.

(Illustrated)

279. ORNATE ENGLISH PERCUSSION TIGER RIFLE.

Length, 54 inches. Full length ebony stock, with coin silver chiselled mountings. The barrel is octagon and fluted at breech, and for 5 inches is inlaid with silver and gold in floral design. The muzzle is slightly belled, and has a silver sunburst inlay. The escutcheons are silver, nicely engraved. The trigger guard is most elaborate. The forepart shows a figure of a knight in relief, and the trigger guard itself shows a figure in relief presenting arms. The rest of the trigger guard is of fancy design. The grip is ornamented with a chiselled silver initialed ornament,—the initials being in relief, and surmounted by English crown. The grip is cross-checked, and studded with small silver-headed tacks. The butt has a very ornate pierced silver ornament. There is a silver owl ornament set in on each side, and the hammer and lock are covered with gold and silver inlay. The side plate is of chiselled design, showing lion's and tiger's heads in relief. One of the finest pieces that has passed through our hands, and in perfect condition.

(Illustrated)

280. UNUSUAL EUROPEAN AIR GUN.

Slender round barrel, about calibre .44, smooth bore. Outside dummy hammer. The breech block can be turned for the insertion of the bullet. The stock is hollow, into which the air is pumped. Interesting piece, in good condition.

(Illustrated)

281. ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK BREECH-LOADING FOWLING PIECE.

Length, 50½ inches. Iron mounted. By turning the trigger guard ten times, a threaded plug, which is set in, screws out and the piece can be loaded. Such arms are of rare interest, showing as they do the genius of inventors whose ideas came so long ahead of the times. Very good condition.

(Illustrated)

This and Nos. 283 and 290 comprise an exceedingly rare set of early English flint-lock breech-loading guns, the product of inventive geniuses many years ahead of their time.

282. GREENER DOUBLE BARREL EXPRESS RIFLE.

Calibre .50. Hammer model, very fine curly walnut stock, full checked pistol grip. Made by the celebrated W. W. Greener of Birmingham, England. In leather, flannel-lined case, with reloading tools. Fine condition. High-grade piece that probably cost 30 guineas.

283. RARE BREECH-LOADING FLINT LOCK MUSKET.

Calibre .69. 33-inch barrel, octagon at the breech, four inches of which are hinged and lifts up for loading, and is fastened by a hinged catch. In good condition, barring a few dents and worm holes.

284. GREENE UNDERHAMMER BOLT ACTION PERCUSSION RIFLE.

Rare and interesting U. S. rifle, showing most of factory finish, and original ramrod. Very scarce.

285. REMINGTON SPLIT BREECH CARBINE.

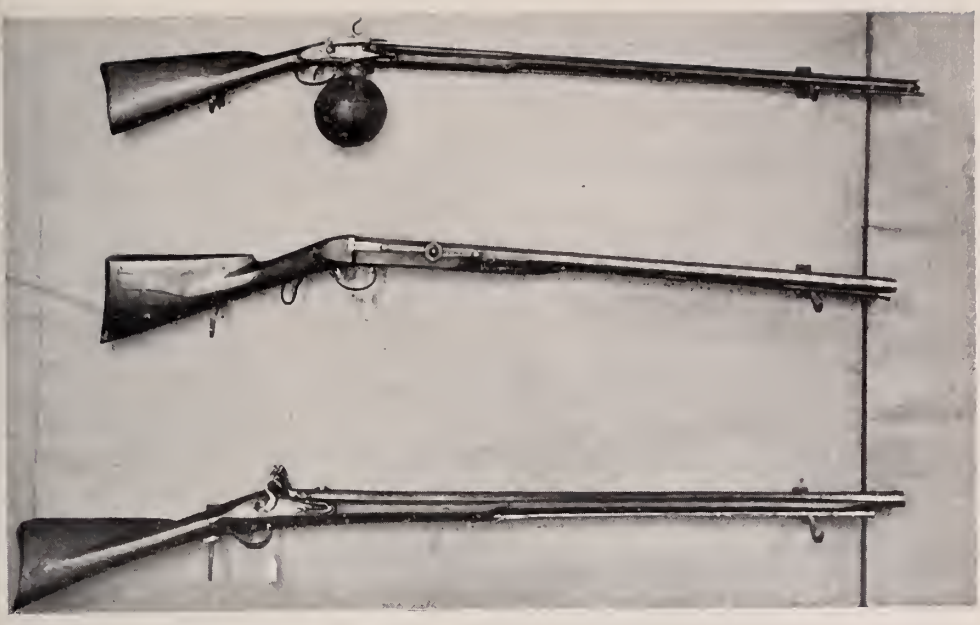
Calibre .50. Rider's patent. Made by E. Remington & Sons, Ilion, N. Y. This is the model with the sling swivels, and shows most of the original finish,—the stock being dented slightly in several places, which can be easily removed. One of the rarest of the American carbines.

286. ROPER REPEATING SHOTGUN.

12-gauge with choker. Made by the Roper Repeating Rifle Co., patent of 1866. Interesting repeating shotgun, in fine condition.

287. RUSSIAN BOLT ACTION MAGAZINE RIFLE.

Calibre .762 mm. Made at the Remington Armory 1917 for the Russian Government. The stock has been cut down to sporting dimensions. New.



288 289 290

288. AIR GUN.

Length, 49 inches. Half octagon barrel, about calibre .30, smooth bore. There is an air chamber, leather covered, underneath the forestock, into which the air is pumped, and is shot by an outside dummy hammer.

These air guns were made in Europe about 1760, and are very interesting.

(Illustrated)

289. KIRCHBERG HAMMERLESS SHOTGUN.

Unusually fine damascus barrels, 12-bore. All parts are hand chiselled and engraved in beautiful scroll and foliated designs. The trigger guard is ornamented with a hound in panel, and the tang has engraved bird. The grip is very closely checked, and the finish of the gun is of the highest type. Marked "Wm. Kirschberg in Philadelphia".

This gun used a paper cartridge—the powder and shot charges being separated by a wooden wad—the cavity in the bottom of which contained the fulminate of mercury priming. In firing, the action of pulling the trigger forces a slender steel rod through the powder into the priming. It is probably one of the rarest and most interesting of early American shotguns. Chip of wood, missing at the breech on the left side, otherwise in very good condition.

(Illustrated)

290. ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK BREECH-LOADING RIFLED MUSKET.

Length 52½ inches, about calibre .69, closely rifled. Engraved brass mountings. A plug in the breech unscrews so that the charge can be inserted, and when the plug is set it forms a sight. Very rare piece, in very good condition.

(Illustrated)

291. HALL PERCUSSION BREECH-LOADING CARBINE.

Marked "J. S. Hall, U. S. 1839." Calibre .54. The scarce model with the ramrod bayonet. Very good condition.

292. UNUSUAL HAMMERLESS SHOTGUN.

29-inch barrel. In the breech there is a heavy spring with a plunger, which fires the piece. Front sight missing,—otherwise in good condition.

293. HEAVY JAPANESE MATCH-LOCK WALL GUN.

Length, 42 inches. Very heavy barrel, ornamented with some engraving and inlay, and heavy flaring muzzle. Calibre about .55, brass mounted. Arms of this type are not often found in this country.

294. JAPANESE MATCH-LOCK GUN.

Length, 53 inches. The barrel is ornamented with silver dragons. Plain walnut stock. Very good condition.

295. JOSLYN INDIAN CARBINE.

Breech-loading, calibre .54. B. F. Joslyn's patent. Ornamented with round-headed brass tacks. These Indian arms are getting very scarce. Very good condition.

296. LEMAN PERCUSSION "PLAINS" RIFLE.

Octagon barrel, 32 inches long, calibre .36. Half walnut stock, iron mountings, double set triggers. Engraved iron patch-box. Marked "H. F. Leman, Lancaster, Pa."

A great many of these rifles were used on the plains in the West in the early sixties. Fairly good condition.

297. SPRINGFIELD FLINT-LOCK MUSKET.

Model 1808. Dated 1812. Bayonet missing,—otherwise in very good condition.

298. SPRINGFIELD PERCUSSION MUSKETOON.

Model 1842. Calibre .69. Marked "Springfield 1853." Brass mounted. A very scarce musketoon, in very good original condition, except that the ramrod is not original.

299 (top) 300 301

299. CAPTURED GERMAN OFFICER'S BOLT ACTION MAGAZINE RIFLE.

Calibre 8 mm. Captured by Capt. Henri Cardin. Very fine condition. An interesting World War relic, and a high-grade up-to-date high power sporting rifle, for which ammunition can be obtained in this country.

(Illustrated)

300. JENNINGS PILLOCK REPEATING RIFLE.

Calibre .44. Made by Robbins & Lawrence, Windsor, Vt. Patent of 1849. The first repeating rifle made in the United States, and as but few were made, they are now exceedingly rare. Fine condition.

(Illustrated)

301. INVENTOR'S MODEL REPEATING RIFLE.

Length, 40 inches. The barrel is heavy at the breech and is bored for six .44 rim fire cartridges The removable breech block is missing. Brass frame, ring cocking lever. The frame is marked on the left side "Conical Repeater," and on the right side, "Morris & Brown's Patent, Jan. 24, 1860." Highly polished bird's eye maple stock. Rare piece, and the only one known.

(Illustrated)

302. PARKER, SNOW & CO. MUSKET.

Unusually fine, clean condition, complete with ramrod and bayonet.

303. MORSE CONFEDERATE CARBINE.

Brass mounted, and original brass tipped ramrod. Slight repairs to woodwork,—otherwise in extra good original condition.

Confederate weapons are very scarce.

304. RARE REMINGTON PERCUSSION REVOLVING RIFLE.

Calibre .36, 6 shots, 28-inch octagon barrel. Brass mounted. In very good condition.

But few of these revolving rifles were made, and we believe this is the first one that has been offered at public auction, and the cataloguer knows of but few in the hands of collectors.

No. 305

305. BERGMAN AUTOMATIC RIFLE.
Calibre 8 mm. Marked "Theodor Bergman Waffenbau Suhl." Captured by Maj. T. D. Sheriff, 4th Machine Gun Co., Jan. 11, 1918. Fine condition.
(Illustrated)

306. SPRINGFIELD RIFLE.
Calibre .50-70. Model 1866. Complete with ramrod and bayonet. Almost new condition.

307. SCARCE TRYON "MISSISSIPPI" PERCUSSION RIFLE.
Marked "Tryon U. S. Philada. 1848." Brass mounted, calibre .58, and adapted for sabre bayonet, which is missing. A few of these were made by Tryon under contract for the Government, but they are very scarce. Good condition.

308. RARE EXPERIMENTAL MUSKET.
Breech-loading, lever action. 26½-inch round browned barrel, about calibre .50, adapted for a short center fire cartridge. Has front and middle bands like model 1822 musket, brass frame and lever. Small walnut butt, with brass patch-box similar to that used on the model 1819 U. S. flint-lock rifle. This somewhat resembles a Whitney repeating rifle in outline. Only specimen known, in new condition.

309. WINCHESTER MAGAZINE CARBINE.
Model 1866. The first model, with the brass frame. These rifles, more than any other of the Winchester manufacture, played an important part with the early history of the West.

310 (top) 312 311 313

310. SCARCE UNDERHAMMER PERCUSSION PISTOL.
Length, 13 inches. Half octagon barrel, calibre .31. Highly polished walnut grips, iron mounted, with iron skeleton stock and cleaning rod. German silver ornament on each grip, and marked "A. Willard, Boston." Well made piece of unusual make, in fine condition, barring cracked grip hardly showing. (Illustrated)

311. UNUSUAL FLINT-LOCK BRASS BARREL BLUNDERBUS.
Length, 25½ inches. Octagon at the breech for 7½ inches. Bell muzzle. Checked grip and fore-end. The unusual feature is that the stock is only 8½ inches long, making it more like an arquebus. The stock is of a very close grained wood, closely resembling mahogany. An unusually fine piece, in almost new original condition. (European). (Illustrated).

312. ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK BRASS CANNON BARREL BAYONET BLUNDERBUS.
Length, 26 inches, with bayonet folded. Brass cannon barrel, with 1⅛-inch bell muzzle. The lock is marked "Oakes." The bayonet is released by pulling back a stud on the tang. Ramrod and safety on frame missing, otherwise very good condition. (Illustrated)

313. GERMAN HUNTING PRODD.
Length, 19¾ inches. XVII Century. Very interesting and rare piece, with spanner, in fine condition. (Illustrated)

314. HEAVY ENGLISH PERCUSSION RAMPART BLUNDERBUS.
Length, 36 inches. 2¼-inch bell muzzle. Lock marked "Barnett, London." Fine condition.

315. ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK BRASS BARREL, ELYPTIC MUZZLE, BLUNDERBUS.
Length, 31 inches. The barrel is octagon at the breech, marked "London," with elyptic muzzle 2 x 1½ inches. The lock is marked "Bass." Brass mountings. Very good condition.

316. RARE ENGLISH SHIP'S BLUNDERBUS.
Length, 44 inches. The barrel is octagon for 7 inches at the breech, with 2-inch bell muzzle. The lock is marked "Tower Crown G. R." and broad arrow, denoting Government ownership. The stock is ornamented on the right side with sunken floral designs. An extremely rare blunderbus, in extra fine original condition.

317. ORIENTAL FLINT-LOCK BLUNDERBUS.
Length, 22½ inches. 3-inch bell muzzle. The whole barrel is covered with inlay resembling silver, carved at the breech. The stock is inlaid with brass wire. Very good condition.

318. RARE JAPANESE MATCH-LOCK BRASS-BARREL BLUNDERBUS.
Heavy 25-inch barrel, octagon at the breech, with 2-inch bell muzzle. Swivels for carrying. The barrel has English proof marks, and was probably made for Japanese use. Such blunderbuses are rarely found. Some repairs required, and the stock does not appear to be original.

319. HEAVY UNDERHAMMER PERCUSSION MATCH RIFLE.
29-inch browned octagon barrel, 1¾ inch in diameter. Globe and peep sights. Fine curly walnut stock. The trigger guard forms the main spring. Made by H. Warner, Ridgeway, Pa. Rare and interesting piece, in fine condition.
(Illustrated)

320 321 319

320. RARE EUROPEAN MIGUELET LOCK WALL PIECE.

Length, 58 inches. Heavy octagon barrel, slightly belled at the muzzle. Calibre .75, with deep rifling. The barrel is held to the stock by two engraved silver sleeves. Also silver fore-end cap, and silver ornament around the trigger in pierced design and engraved. There are also two engraved pierced design ornaments on each side of the tang, and around the butt. Unidentified armorer's marks on the outside breech of the barrel. Rare piece, in fine condition.

(Illustrated)

321. RARE EUROPEAN MATCH - LOCK WALL RIFLE.

Length, 60 inches. Heavy octagon barrel, slightly belled at the muzzle, about calibre .60. Walnut stock, which is fluted, with some carved ornamentation. Three-finger spur trigger guard, double set triggers. Very unusual piece, in fine original condition.

(Illustrated)

Second Session

NOS. 322-631

SMALL CANNON, RIFLES, CARBINES, AIR-GUNS, ETC.

322. MUZZLE-LOADING BRONZE DECK CANNON.
Length, 15½ inches. Perfect condition.

323. MUZZLE-LOADING IRON CANNON.
Length, 34 inches.

324. MUZZLE-LOADING BRONZE CANNON.
Length, 13 inches. On two-wheeled carriage. Fine condition.

325. BRAND PERCUSSION WHALE GUN.
1¾-inch barrel, calibre one inch, with lanyard. A relic of the old whaling days of 1850. Good condition.
Hinged iron rest, with two branches, for use with the above whaling gun, with hinged iron that is shaped to go on the gunwhale of the dory. Very scarce.

326. ORIENTAL FLINT-LOCK ARQUEBUS.
Length, 22 inches. The barrel is ornamented with solid silver inlay, with 1¾-inch bell muzzle. The entire stock, which appears to be ebony, is carved in relief and ornamented with silver wire inlay. Very good condition.

327. HEAVY POACHER'S AIR GUN.
Iron cane, length, 38 inches, lacquered, which unscrews in the middle for loading. Unusual type, in good condition.

328. ALLEN & WHEELOCK FALLING BREECH BLOCK RIFLE.
Calibre .32, rim fire. Made by Allen & Wheelock, patent of Sept. 18, 1860. Almost factory new.
This is a very scarce rifle, especially so in this condition, as it was the first breech-loading rifle made in the United States, and doubly interesting since it was made by the Allens.

329. FINE EARLY AMERICAN PERCUSSION MATCH RIFLE.
Heavy octagon barrel, length 26 inches. Walnut stock, iron mounted. Globe and peep sights. Set trigger. In quartered oak case, with the following accessories: Bullet stand containing bullets, nipple wrench, false muzzle, bullet starter, funnel, bullet resizer, rammer, cleaning rods, fine bullet mould, and metal muzzle rest. High-grade rifle, in fine condition.

330. THREE-BARREL PERCUSSION COMBINATION GUN.
24-inch round barrels. The top one is smooth bore, calibre .31; the other two are intended for shot, 20-gauge. Three hammers. German silver patch-box each side; painted soft wood stock, probably not the original one. Unusual gun, in fairly good condition.

331. VALLEY FORGE FLINT-LOCK MUSKET.
Model 1822. Marked "W. L. Evans, V. Forge, U. S., 1826." Good original condition, with ramrod and bayonet.

332. INVENTOR'S MODEL BREECH-LOADING RIFLE.
Calibre .45-120-500. Made by F. W. Freund, Jersey City, N. J. An exceptionally well-made rifle, with 28-inch octagon barrel, very fine highly polished curly walnut stock, full checked pistol grip and fore-end. Falling breech block with outside dummy hammer.
In leather trunk case, flannel-lined, with accessories. Also extra barrel, which does not belong to this outfit. The rifle is in new condition, and shows very high grade workmanship, and the accessories are in good condition, but the case is considerably battered and needs relining.

333. HEAVY GERMAN FLINT-LOCK SPORTING RIFLE.
37-inch heavy octagon barrel, with multiple rifling, about calibre .55. Full butternut stock with stag horn cap. Brass mounted, double set triggers, wooden slide patch-box. Some carved ornamentation at the comb, and in the rear of the raised cheek piece. The stock has a big offset, which was probably intended for a shooter who is blind in one eye. Unusual piece that has been split at the grip and glued together,—otherwise in good condition.

334. ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK FOWLING PIECE.
Length, 56 inches. Slender, round barrel, octagon for a foot at the breech. Iron mounted. The lock is marked with an elephant, and the barrel has English proof marks. They were made for the East Indian trade and were exchanged for slaves, and are rarely found in this country. Very good condition.

335. PERCUSSION SUPERPOSED COMBINATION GUN.
33½-inch round barrels,—the top one calibre .31, smooth bore,—the lower one 16-gauge. Engraved back action lock and hammers, marked "G. Goulcher." Walnut stock, brass mountings and patch-box. Very good condition.

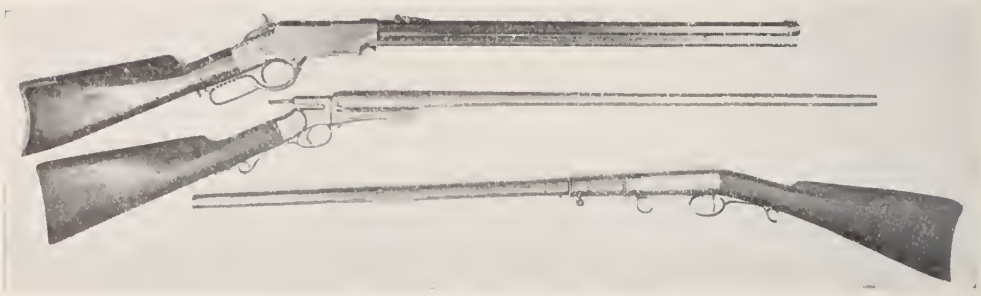
336. GREENE UNDERHAMMER PERCUSSION BOLT ACTION RIFLE.
Bayonet missing,—otherwise in extra fine condition.

337. HARPERS FERRY FLINT-LOCK RIFLE.
Calibre .54. Model 1806. Marked "Harpers Ferry 1819." Good original condition, requiring cleaning only. This is well rifled, and most of the specimens found have been bored out. If this rifle were taken apart, cleaned thoroughly and the barrel ground down, it would be in perfect condition.

338. HENRY MAGAZINE RIFLE.
Calibre .44, rim fire. Patent of 1860. The forerunner of the Winchester rifle. Very good condition.

339. AIR GUN.

About calibre .22. Brass air chamber. The air is compressed by pulling down the trigger guard. Marked "J. H. Johnson. Pittsburg, Pa." Rare air gun, in very good condition.



340 (top) 341 342

340. ORNATE HENRY MAGAZINE RIFLE.

Calibre .44. Forerunner of the famous Winchester rifle. The barrel and magazine are beautifully blued, the frame is silver plated and covered with scroll engraving. Highly polished curly walnut stock, with silver plated and engraved butt plate, with ram-rod box. It has been broken at the grip in transportation, but is glued together so that the break hardly shows.

THE FINEST HENRY RIFLE THE CATALOGUER HAS SEEN.

(Illustrated)

341. SHATTUCK BREECH-LOADING SHOTGUN.

12-gauge. Bronze breech and frame. Catch on the left side of the frame releases the barrel, which tips down. The piece is discharged by bolt-type hammer.

The only marks on the gun are American, but these were made by C. S. SHATTUCK, Hatfield, Mass., about 25 years ago. But few, however, were made. Interesting piece, in good condition.

(Illustrated)

342. UNIQUE THREE-SHOT PERCUSSION UNDERHAMMER GUN.

The barrel is round, 23 inches long, in which are bored three chambers, about calibre .22, smooth. The ring at the head of the trigger guard pulls back for the insertion of a cap. The barrel unscrews for loading. Brass frame, plain walnut stock. Rare piece, in fine condition.

(Illustrated)

343. CONFEDERATE SHARPS CARBINE.

Similar to the Sharps carbine, except this is brass mounted, unmarked, except the serial number. Made without the usual Lawrence primer lock. Slight repairs to woodwork,—otherwise in extra fine original condition. Very rare.

344. KENTUCKY FLINT-LOCK RIFLE.

Octagon barrel, length, 44 inches, about calibre .36, smooth bore. Full length maple stock.. Brass mountings. Engraved brass patch-box and raised cheek piece. Plain Pennsylvania-made rifle, in very good condition.

345. SHORT JAPANESE MATCH-LOCK GUN.

Length, 38 inches. Very heavy barrel, flattened at the top, about calibre .60, and ornamented with silver inlay. Plain wooden stock. Very unusual, and in fine condition.

346. MOROCCAN SNAPHAUNCE HORSEMAN'S GUN.

Length, 51 inches. Octagon barrel, stamped brass mountings. Very good original condition. A genuine old piece.

347. NORTH U. S. FLINT-LOCK RIFLE.

Calibre .54. Model 1819. Marked "U. S., S. North, Middletown, Conn., 1829." Rare and interesting piece, in extra fine complete condition.

348. RARE U. S. FLINT-LOCK MUSKET.

Model 1808. Marked "H. Osborne." But very few of these were made by this contractor for the Government. Complete with flint, ramrod and bayonet. In extra good condition.

349. PORTER PILLOCK RIFLE.

Made by P. W. Porter, New York, 1851. Calibre .44. 9 shots. But few of these rifles were made.

During a test of its rapidity of fire in the suburbs of New York, in the presence of a number of capitalists whom the operator was trying to interest financially, he was killed by a premature explosion of one of the charges. Colonel Colt is said to have been present. The cylinder cover is missing, otherwise in fine condition.

350. UNUSUAL PERCUSSION SPORTING RIFLE.

Length, 29 inches. Octagon barrel marked "Wm. Lawrence," well rifled, calibre .36. Globe and peep sights. Engraved hammer and back action lock. In good condition, in wooden plush-lined case. (Illustrated. See p. 87.)

351 (top) 352 353

351. ORNATE JAPANESE MATCH-LOCK RIFLE.

Length, 51 inches. The barrel at the breech is inlaid with floral and other designs in brass, and the muzzle is an unusually large flaring one. The butt is also ornamented all over with brass and silver inlay, nicely engraved. The wood is of a very fine mottled texture.

This is about the finest rifle of this kind the cataloguer has seen, and is far superior in workmanship and ornamentation to the average rifle of this type, the ornamentation extending from one end of the stock to the other, the underneath part being practically covered.

(Illustrated)

352. AUSTRIAN SCHEUTZEN PERCUSSION RIFLE.

Length, 44½ inches. Octagon barrel, slightly belled at the muzzle, calibre about .30, smooth bore. The barrel is marked "Fran. Kelner in Salzb." Three-finger spur trigger guard of heavy brass, and unusual shaped stock, which has one panel of foliated relief carving. There is also foliated relief carving around the tang. Unusual type, in fine condition.

(Illustrated)

353. FINE PERCUSSION TELESCOPIC MATCH RIFLE.

31-inch heavy octagon barrel, with full length telescope sight, and false muzzle. The barrel is browned, about calibre .36, and marked "Henry Ward Beecher." Engraved hammer and back action lock. Double set triggers, engraved German silver trigger guard, very fine walnut stock of unusual design, and closely checked at the grip. Made by W. J. & R. H. Scott, Albany, N. Y. Very fine early American match rifle, in almost new condition.

(Illustrated)

354. RARE REMINGTON SPLIT BREECH CARBINE.
Calibre .50. Rider's patent. Made by E. Remington & Sons, Ilion, N. Y. This is the model with the sling swivels. Very fine condition, showing most of factory finish. EXTREMELY RARE.

355. PERCUSSION UNDERHAMMER RIFLE.
24-inch octagon barrel, calibre .31. Iron trigger guard and heel plate. Brass patch-box. The barrel is marked "Remington." Interesting type of rifle, in fairly good condition.

356. REMINGTON "MISSISSIPPI" PERCUSSION RIFLE.
Calibre .58. Brass mounted. Model 1842. Good condition.

357. SPRINGFIELD RIFLE.
Calibre .45-70. Model 1884. Equipped with Buffington wind gauge sight, and ramrod bayonet. Absolutely factory new. VERY HARD TO FIND IN THIS SUPERB CONDITION.

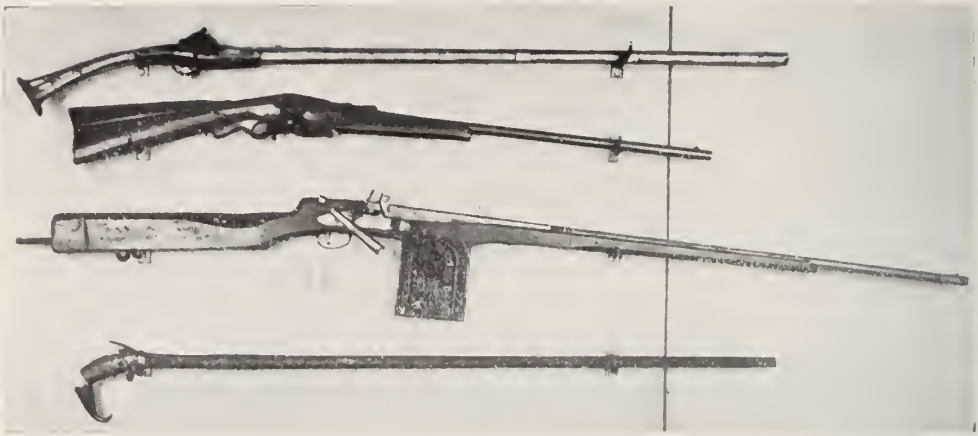
358. RARE U. S. FLINT-LOCK CADET MUSKET.
Calibre .54. Marked "U. S. Springfield 1831."
These are extremely rare, and but few were made for use at the West Point Military Academy and the Naval Academy at Annapolis. In extra fine original condition, including the ramrod.

359. SPRINGFIELD RIFLE.
Calibre .50-70. Model 1873. Complete with ramrod and bayonet. New.

360. RARE U. S. PERCUSSION MUSKETOON.
Model 1842. Marked "Springfield 1852." Brass mounted, with ramrod. Bayonet missing. Very good condition.

361. FINE PERCUSSION DOUBLE EXPRESS RIFLE.
Heavy round barrels, 24 inches long, and about calibre .50. Marked "A. Wilson, London." Checked grip and fore-end, shotgun butt, with engraved iron patch-box and sling swivels.
Very fine, high grade rifle, in nearly new condition.

362. INDIAN WINCHESTER MAGAZINE RIFLE.
Calibre .45-60. Model 1876. (Centennial model). This has unusual 28-inch barrel, and is ornamented with round-headed brass tacks, which was the usual Indian way of decorating their pet rifles. Unusually fine polished condition, and the inside of the barrel is also very fair.
Scarce and interesting Indian gun, especially so since the Winchester Company are conducting a publicity campaign in connection with their early rifles.



363 (top) 364 365 366

363. MOROCCAN ALL METAL SNAPHAUNCE GUN.
Length, 56 inches. Genuine old piece, nicely engraved at the breech, and inlaid with mother-of-pearl and brass ornaments. Two pieces of mother-of-pearl are missing,—otherwise in very good condition.
(Illustrated)

364. EVANS REPEATING RIFLE.
Calibre .44, rim fire. 26 shots. One of the early American repeating rifles. Patent of 1871. In extra fine condition, showing most of factory finish.
(Illustrated)

365. UNUSUAL AND VERY EARLY MATCH-LOCK GUN.
Length, 67 inches. Long barrel, about 16-gauge, smooth bore. The unusual feature about the piece is that there is a wooden block set in which shows a full relief figure of St. Catharine with floral designs on the outside. On the other side is a figure of St. Philip in very fine early made carving of the 16th century. A small brass tube on the breech is intended for a telescope sight. There is a lead butt plate with heavy iron loop. A very unique and interesting piece, in good condition, except that the wood has been chipped around the lock, and the fore-end cap is missing, but considering its age, these blemishes are inconsequential.
(Illustrated)

366. SWISS ALPENSTOCK.
All iron. Length, 54 inches. About 12-bore. With concealed flint-lock. The hammer is cocked by the use of a key, which is missing. Marked "Lambert Loua." Excessively rare museum specimen, in good condition.

367. BELGIAN ONE-INCH RAPID FIRE SWIVEL GUN.

Finely rifled. From the fortification of Antwerp Harbor. It is an early type of breech-loading rapid fire gun, dated 1866, and it was claimed that with a crew of four men, using numerous breech blocks, a rate of fire of ten shots per minute could be obtained. It has 36-inch barrel, which is very heavy. The breach block is removable, and is loaded with paper cartridges fired by percussion cap. Very interesting piece, not easily obtainable in this country. Fine condition.

(Illustrated)

368. HEAVY TELESCOPIC MATCH RIFLE.

29-inch round barrel, 2 inches in diameter, with false muzzle and full length Malcolm telescope sight. Double set triggers, engraved iron mountings, highly polished curly walnut stock. High-grade rifle. Fine condition.

(Illustrated.)

369. HEAVY FRENCH FLINT-LOCK RAMPART GUN.

Length, 70 inches. Heavy octagon barrel, about calibre .85. There is a heavy iron stud on the barrel to hook on the wall to arrest the recoil. Extremely rare piece, in very good original condition.

(Illustrated)

373. VERY FINE GERMAN PERCUSSION SPORTING RIFLE.
Octagon barrel, about calibre .36. Length, 28 inches. Back action lock. The barrel is marked "E. Goldmann in Erfurt." Le Faucheux action. Very fine highly polished curly walnut stock, closely checked grip and fore-end.
The metal parts are hand chiselled and covered with foliated engraving, also gold bordered panels showing animals. The lettering on the barrel and two lines at the breech are solid gold also. Double set triggers. Exquisite piece, showing the highest type of workmanship, contained in oak case. Perfect condition.
(Illustrated)

374. SHARPS BREECH-LOADING PERCUSSION RIFLE.
C. Sharps' Pat., Philadelphia, 1849. Calibre .36. Some of these were used for sporting purposes, and a few were used by officers in the United States Army. Fine condition and a rare piece.
(Illustrated)

375. EAST INDIAN PIERCED BRASS POWDER FLASK HOLDER, WITH CHAIN.
Length, 7 inches. Evidently the powder flask, which fitted inside this holder, is missing. Embossed brass, showing animals and flowers.
(Illustrated)

376. BURMESE SMALL SHIELD.
Diameter, 5 inches. In center a sharp quadrangular point. Two sharp steel points extend out of two sides. Interesting piece.
(Illustrated)

377. AUSTRIAN PERCUSSION SCHUETZEN RIFLE.
30-inch octagon barrel, calibre .50, heavily rifled. Fancy brass mountings. Three-finger spur trigger guard. Box-lock with the hammer reversed so that it strikes towards the shooter. The lock is marked "A. Schmotzer in Wels." Slide patch-box, and a panel above the patch-box containing a beautiful relief foliated design. Similar design around the tang and side plate. An unusual piece, in very good condition.
(Illustrated)

378 379 380

378. MASSIVE ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK BRASS CANNON BARREL RAMPART BLUNDERBUS.

Length, 49 inches. Weighs about 50 pounds. Heavy brass barrel marked "Brander & Potts, London". 1½-inch bore. Oak stock also fitted with heavy chain and swivel. Hammer cap and pin missing—otherwise in perfect condition and a piece of unusual interest.

(Illustrated)

386. PLAIN SUIT OF ARMOR.
(South German). Period about 1600.

PISTOLS

Flintlock Deringers, Pepperbox Percussion Automatic, Etc.

387. LONDON PISTOL COMPANY PERCUSSION BELT REVOLVER.
Calibre .31. 4-inch barrel. Engraved frame and cylinder. Marked "London Pistol Co." This company took over Colonel Colt's English rights, but as they made a very inferior grade of revolver, their career was short-lived, and but few were turned out, and they are now scarce. Fairly good condition only.

388. LOWER CARTRIDGE REVOLVER.
Length, 10 inches. Rosewood grip. Made by J. P. Lower, but not so marked. Good condition.

389. LOWER REVOLVER.
Calibre about .30. 5-inch barrel, marked "J. P. Lower". Rosewood grips, one of which is sightly cracked but not broken off. Otherwise fine.

390. MANHATTAN PERCUSSION BELT REVOLVER.
Calibre .31. 5-inch barrel. Engraved frame. Large fancy walnut grips. In walnut, plush-lined case, with double bullet mould, embossed powder flask, box of caps, combination nipple wrench and screw driver. The case requires repairs, but the outfit otherwise is in very good condition.

391. MANHATTAN PERCUSSION BELT REVOLVER.
Calibre .36. 6-inch barrel. Silver plated mountings, much worn. In original leather holster. Fairly good condition only.

392. PAIR MANTON PERCUSSION HOLSTER PISTOLS.

FLINT-LOCK, PERCUSSION, ETC., INCLUDING SEVERAL FINE PAIRS

480. SAVAGE PERCUSSION REVOLVER.
Calibre .36. Appears to be unused, and in this condition scarce.

481. SHARPS FOUR-SHOT BULLDOG PISTOL.
Calibre .30. Rounded rosewood grips. Very good condition.

482. SHARPS FOUR-SHOT PEPPERBOX.
The large size. Calibre .32, rim fire. The main spring is missing and requires cleaning.

483. ENGRAVED SHARPS FOUR-SHOT PISTOL.
Calibre .30. The frame, which is bronze, and part of the barrel, are nicely engraved in foliated designs. Checked hard-rubber grips. Very good condition.

484. ENGLISH OFFICER'S BRASS CANNON BARREL HOLSTER PISTOL.
Length, 12 inches. Marked "Sharp, London." On the left side opposite the lock is a very fine silver foliated design ornament, raised carved design around the tang, and a fine fancy design initialed name plate. Silver lion's head mask on the butt. Scarce type of pistol,—the main spring of which is superficially cracked.

485. PAIR ENGLISH FLINT-LOCK BRASS BARREL POCKET PISTOLS.
Length, 7½ inches. Engraved locks, marked "Sharpe, London." In very fine handled walnut case, flannel-lined, with embossed powder flask. In very good condition.

486. ENGLISH BRASS BARREL FLINT-LOCK HOLSTER PISTOL.
Length, 15½ inches. Heavy brass octagon barrel, marked "Extra Proof London." Lock marked "Sharpe." Very good condition.

487. FINE SHARPS FOUR-SHOT PISTOL.
Calibre .22. Refinished to new condition. Barrel blued. Frame silver-plated.

488. FANCY SHARPS FOUR-SHOT PISTOL.
Calibre .30. The frame is covered with foliated engraving. Beautiful ivory grips. The frame and barrel both bear the number 5. It is rarely that an American-made revolver with a low number like this is found. Very fine condition.

489. SHARPS FOUR-SHOT PISTOL.
Calibre .30. Silver-plated, checked rosewood grips. This is the exceedingly rare model, having a locking catch ahead of the frame. The only such model the cataloguer has seen. EXTREMELY RARE.

490. FLINT-LOCK SUPERPOSED PISTOL.
Length, 8¼ inches. Round individual barrels. Engraved frame with safety, marked "Simmons & Howell." Engraved trigger guard and hammer. Silver plated name plate on comb. Polished walnut stock. Frizzen spring missing,—otherwise in fine condition.

491. SLOCUM REVOLVER, WITH REMOVABLE CHAMBERS.
Length, 7 inches. Engraved silver plated frome. Rosewood grips. Scarce revolver, in very fine condition.

492. SMITH & WESSON, FIRST MODEL, "TIP UP" REVOLVER.
Calibre .22. The barrel is engraved. Silver plated frame, rosewood grips. This is a scarce model with the high hammer and rounded frame. If cleaned, it would be nearly like new.

493. SMITH & WESSON "TIP UP" REVOLVER.
Calibre .32, rim fire. 6-inch barrel. Square rosewood grips. Poor condition.

494. SMITH & WESSON "TIP UP" REVOLVER.
Calibre .22. Has been restocked. Unusual flat German silver capped grips. Slightly out of order.

495. SMITH POCKET REVOLVER.
Calibre .32, rim fire. Nickle plated. Rosewood grips. Good condition.

496. BELGIAN PERCUSSION HORSE PISTOL.
Brass mounted, swivel ramrod, ring in butt. Period 1850. Almost new condition.

497. PAIR BELGIAN SIDE HAMMER CONCEALED TRIGGER PERCUSSION PISTOLS.

Length, 8½ inches. Round twist barrels. All parts engraved. Fluted butts of very pretty mottled wood, and metal caps. In cardboard box, chamois lined, with loader, mallet, powder measure, screw driver, and combination bullet mould, nipple wrench and hammer. Nice pair of pistols, requiring cleaning only.

498. FINE LONG PAIR ITALIAN HOLSTER PISTOLS.

Length, 22½ inches. Slender barrels, 20-gauge, fluted at the breech and with a rib to the muzzle. Made by the celebrated Lazarino Carminazo,—considered the premier Italian pistol maker. The wood is of Italian walnut, with some carving. The mountings are of burnished steel, hand chiselled in beautiful designs, including some open work. The locks are also hand-chiselled and carved. The butts are of steel, also hand-chiselled. Rare pair of pistols, needing slight repars to woodwork and metal, but can be restored at slight expense.

(Illustrated)

499. GERMAN FLINT-LOCK HORSE PISTOL.

Length, 16¾ inches. Brass mounted. Brass flash pan. Unmarked. Good condition, requiring cleaning only.

(Illustrated)

500. BEAUTIFUL PAIR FLINT-LOCK HOLSTER PISTOLS.

Length, 14½ inches. The barrels at the breech and at the muzzles are ornamented with solid gold floral inlay. The locks, hammers, tangs and batteries are similarly ornamented. Gold vents and gold lined flash pans. The wood is of very fine quality walnuut, and is checked in front of the trigger guard and on the grips. This checking is studded with small silver nails. The muzzles have engraved silver caps, and engraved strips are set in in the rear of the caps. The trigger guards are of solid silver, chiselled in fancy design and nicely engraved. The sides opposite the locks and around the tangs are set with pierced silver ornamentation. Silver name plates with sunbursts on the ends. One of the most beautiful pair of pistols, in new condition, that the cataloguer has seen. Unmarked, but show French influence.

(Illustrated)

501. FINE FLINT-LOCK HOLSTER PISTOL.

Length, 14 inches. Barrel and lock marked "John Nicholes Oxon." Slightly belled muzzle, calibre .57. Very fine chiselled brass mountings. Hand-made lock. Carving around the lock, side plate and tang, which is nicely engraved. The side plate is brass, in pierced fancy design. Fancy design brass name plate. Very fine walnut stock with heavy brass chiselled cap showing grotesque man's head. High-grade pistol, in good condition.

PISTOLS

ORIENTAL, FRENCH, ENGLISH, IRISH AND SPANISH

615. DOUBLE ACTION "TOP SNAP" PERCUSSION PEPPER-BOX TYPE REVOLVER.
Length, 12 inches. Checked grip; flat metal capped butt. English patent. Slightly inoperative.

616. HAMMERLESS RING TRIGGER PERCUSSION PEPPER-BOX.
Length, 7½ inches. Five individual Damascus barrels. Engraved frame. Ebony grips. Requires cleaning.

617. SUPERPOSED BRASS BARREL PERCUSSION PISTOL.
Length, 8 inches. Round barrels. Unusual style in that it has removable lug at the breech of the barrels to position the firing pin. Safety on frame, closely checked grip with some silver wire inlay. The grip has been split and repaired by putting on a brass band.

618. PAIR FLINT-LOCK BRASS CANNON BARREL OVERCOAT POCKET PISTOLS.
Length, 8½ inches. Safeties on frames, initialed shield-shaped silver name plates, and two small engraved silver ornaments on each stock, which are of very pretty wood. Probably French pistols, in very nice condition.

619. UNUSUAL FLINT-LOCK OVERCOAT POCKET PISTOL.
Length, 8½ inches. Octagon barrel, which is unusual. Engraved frame with safeties. Belgian proof marks. Slight repairs to woodwork,—otherwise in almost new condition.

620. PERCUSSION SPUR TRIGGER IRISH DUELLING PISTOL.
Length, 15½ inches. Octagon barrel, calibre about .40. Sunken gold Dublin proof mark. Silver escutcheons and name plate. Set trigger. All parts engraved. Checked grip and capped butt. Well made but plain piece, altered from flint-lock.

621. FANCY PAIR ORIENTAL FLINT-LOCK BLUNDERBUS PISTOLS.

Length, 15 inches. The barrels are ornamented with relief carving for three inches at the breech, with 1¼-inch bell muzzles. Engraved iron mountings, chiselled brass butt caps and name plates. The stocks are ornamented with some wire and other ornamentation, and the wood is covered with raised carved decorations. The hammers and locks are set with gold. Nice pair of pistols, in good condition.

622. LONG ORIENTAL HORSEMAN'S FLINT-LOCK PISTOL.

Length, 22 inches. Tapering barrel, with some carving at the breech, about 16-bore. Fancy iron mountings, walnut stock, with pierced and engraved side plate, which is not perfect. Knobbed butt, metal capped, with chiselled grotesque face. Genuine old piece, in good condition, barring the imperfect side plate.

623. ALL-METAL ORIENTAL FLINT-LOCK HORSEMAN'S PISTOL.

Length, 20 inches. The barrel is inlaid at the breech with silver decoration, and the stock is of embossed brass, with 3-inch sleeve at the muzzle. Knobbed butt, also chiselled and of brass. The hammer and lock are inlaid with silver. The stock is cracked ahead of the lock but could be brazed together, —otherwise in very good condition.

624. PAIR PHILADELPHIA DERINGERS.

Length, 6¼ inches. Engraved German silver mountings. The other parts are also engraved. Good sound condition, but require cleaning.

625. FRENCH OVERCOAT POCKET FLINT-LOCK PISTOL.

Length, 8½ inches. The barrel is octagon at the breech, with some inlay, about calibre .28. Chiselled iron mountings, which are surrounded by relief carving. Mother-of-pearl name plate, surrounded by silver wire inlay. Curly walnut grip, knobbed butt. Very good.

626. FRENCH PIN FIRE PEPPERBOX.

Calibre, 7 mm. Length, 4¾ inches. Folding trigger. Fine condition.

627. PIN FIRE PEPPERBOX.

6 shots, calibre 8 mm. Length, 5¾ inches. French make. Very fine condition.

628. FINE ENGLISH DOUBLE ACTION PERCUSSION BULL-DOG PEPPERBOX.

Length, 8½ inches. The hammer and trigger guard are nicely engraved, and are made of steel. The frame and other mountings are of German silver covered with foliated engraving. Very closely checked grip. In walnut, plush-lined case, with box of caps and loader. Fine condition.

629. SMALL PERCUSSION PISTOL.

Length, 7½ inches. Half octagon barrel, calibre .31. Shows most of factory finish. In walnut, flannel-lined case, with bullet mould and loader. Like new.

630. SPANISH DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER.

Calibre .38, center fire. 4¾-inch barrel, blued. Checked hard rubber grips. Solid frame; rod ejector. Closely resembling the Colt "Lightning" model revolver. Very good up-to-date revolver, showing most of original finish.

631. SPANISH PERCUSSION DAGG.

Length, 11½ inches. Octagon at the breech with unidentified armorer's marks. Some foliated engraving. Cannon muzzle. Very fine engraved fancy brass mountings. Fine brass engraved side plate, with belt hook. Carved ornamentation at the tang and around the rear thimble. Engraved brass cap with silver head, also a silver head on the trigger guard. A piece of brass set in on the right side to replace one broken out is the only part not original,—otherwise very fine.
